David “Clay” Person

Person, Whitworth, Borchers & Morales, L.L.P

Associate Attorney

Clay attended St. Mary’s University School of Law and received his JD in 2008. He also attended Emory University, Goizueta Business School, receiving an MBA in 2005. Clay received a BA from the University of Texas at Austin in 1997.

He is currently working for Person, Whitworth, Borchers & Morales, L.L.P. as an associate attorney and assists numerous landowner clients in a wide range of energy related transactions, including oil and gas leases, pipeline rights-of-way, and surface use agreements. Person, Whitworth, Borchers, and Morales, L.L.P is a full service South Texas law firm which represents landowners involved in all aspects of land and mineral ownership, from leasing transactions to lease termination litigation.

Before beginning his law career, Clay served in the United States Navy for 8 years as a Naval Aviator. As a naval officer, he piloted over 2500 flight hours in three different aircraft, including the Sikorsky SH-60B Seahawk, the Navy’s all-weather maritime warfare helicopter. He was deployed during Operation Enduring Freedom and the Global War on Terrorism. He also served as a flight instructor, teaching helicopter flight techniques and officer leadership skills to the Navy’s newest pilots.

He is a member of the Laredo Webb County Bar Association and was the CLE Director in 2009. He is also a member of the San Antonio Bar Association. He is licensed to practice law in all Texas Courts and the U.S. District Court, Eastern District of Texas.
